

Personally I am tired of the government dictating who I do business with and when. No one in the government gives a hoot about the average man or women anymore. You listen to the lobbyist with the loudest voice and the most money. We have unemployment out of sight now and you want to try to eliminate a few hundred thousand more jobs. I dare say that doesn't make my government the brightest bulb in the box. I feel certain that this will not make any difference to you people at all, but at least I am one citizen that is trying to take back some of my rights and give this government back to the people it belongs to and that isn't BIG BUSINESS!!!!!!
